ACME Road Runner Mating Service

(Proprietor: Wile E. Coyote)

For pictures of hot, naked, eligible road runners ready to mate, please click on the magic Road Runner button above.

Please notice!

The above is a trap. It was devised to demonstrate that Adobe PDF files may contain destructive operations (so-called «Trojan Horses» — a cousin of computer viruses).

To check out the trap on Microsoft Windows, create a file named ROADRUNN.TMP in the C: directory on your hard disk. Observe the file is there. Press the road runner button. Observe that it is not.

… and if you have just completed your novel, thesis or shopping list, and keep it in file C:\ROADRUNN.TMP — you better not press that button …

For Unix users, the trap is non-destructive (it just lists the directory), and I haven't put in anything there for the MacIntosh.

If you want to test this trap on W/NT, make sure that a command shell can be found as C:\windows\command.com.

If you have any questions about this, please contact me.
